What is my student learning in History class?

In History we will be taking a journey through the American Revolutionary War. The students will have the opportunity to learn about key people and the events that occurred during the 1770s. The students will be working extremely hard learning about different facts, people, places, and battle sites. The students will have the opportunity to map out the journey the American colonists took during the American Revolution as well as re-enact certain battles. We are looking forward to a great trimester!
